

TigerConnect Physician Scheduling

How to Navigate a Microsite

Your organization will be using an internal microsite on the web that will display daily on-call assignments, monthly department views and merged monthly calendar views. It will serve as a central access point for your Providers and Staff to find and view their schedules quickly on any device of their choosing.

What is a Microsite?

A Microsite is a “central access point” to your schedules.

Schedulers, Providers and Staff can view your schedules without logging into TigerConnect Physician Scheduling. Since it is a website, it can be bookmarked on a laptop, tablet, and smartphones just like any other website. This view is useful for staff, after-hour services, ER and anyone that needs to only view the current schedule.

The calendars will automatically update as you enter information for your group. Any viewer that uses your Microsite link will always see the most current information.

Unlike ordinary websites, your Microsite can NOT be found via a simple Google search. You are in control of announcing its location to your authorized viewers.

Some ways a MicroSite has been useful to other clients are:

- Easy access for front desk and call-center personnel without need for passwords
- Quick access for providers from home or office
- Send the link in email announcements regarding calendar issues, announcements, and deadlines
- Send the link to outside "data-targets" whom you currently email calendars (such as other clinics)
- Providers can bookmark the site on the home-screen of their smartphones. Check out these guides for iOS devices and Android devices to learn now.

Getting Started

Use the link provided to you by your organization. Microsites are typically arranged with the Daily On-Call Calendar Views at the top and any Monthly, Custom Monthly, or Merged Monthly calendar views at the bottom.

NOTE: Microsites are customizable, as such the look and feel of yours may differ slightly from these examples.
